PTC Prime Mathcad is a dynamic, industry-standard engineering program for solving, analysing, and sharing.Music and sound can have a significant impact on films and other entertainment media. The appreciation and exploration of music and sound can be very subjective and dependent on personal experience and emotional state of the listener. By recognizing a user's emotional state, a media experience can be adjusted to be more satisfactory to the user. For example, a user who is in an excited state of happiness or sadness may enjoy a movie/video that depicts similar emotions more than a user who is in a relaxed state of happiness. In order to ensure that an experience for both users is adequate, a user may prefer to play background music during a media experience. The background music often has a specific mood, effect, or tempo that can be applied to a media experience. For example, the background music may cause the user to relax, be in the mood of
